

Senior Advocacy Organizations

Senior advocacy organizations play an important role in the lives of many seniors throughout our state. Their interests are aligned with ours in their desire to provide solutions for seniors and improve their lives.

We have been asked to speak at Senior Centers to raise the awareness of the issues with programs like the Equity Sharing Agreements that are currently being promoted to that demographic. We are always happy to accommodate speaking requests for Senior Centers who are looking for honest and objective information that their communities can benefit from.

We are committed to serving the this population with trust and integrity. We are currently in the process of creating some additional resources to support the efforts of those involved in providing education and services to the senior population. In the meantime, if you know of anyone who is connected with a Senior Advocacy Organization that could benefit from this information, please feel free to connect them with us directly
